The Sarcee Indians put on a big stampede and broncho bucking contest at the reserve near Calgary, on Monday, in spite of the protests of the humane society which claimed that roping and throwing the steers, in the mock buffalo hunt, was brutal and needlessly cruel.

WITHDRAWS INFORMATION AGAINST DONALD LEWIS

The case against Donald Lewis, proprietor of the Summit hotel at Crow's Nest, instituted by Sergeant Nicholson, of the Alberta Provincial Police, came to a climax yesterday when Nicholson asked to withdraw the information laid by him.

It is ridiculous to think that the police have within their power to place a civil citizen to needless expense for apparently no other reason than to make of the citizen a criminal. In this case, circumstances were such as should at least warrant dismissal of police officer, and it would be interesting to the public to know what steps the department governing the provincial police in Alberta will take in the matter. Some of the circumstances connected with this case were cited by us last week. The affair without a doubt, happened in British Columbia territory. The police were acting on information furnished them by a party whose premises at the east end of Crow's Nest lake were searched for intoxicants and the goods confiscated were acknowledged to have been purchased from the accused, Lewis. Lewis was held up on railway crossing in British Columbia, by Alberta police. No liquor was found in the car, and in a German-like manner, Lewis was switched over into Alberta and placed in a cooler to await his fate.

Solicitor Harris, of Lethbridge, was retained by Lewis, and had the case been proceeded with, matters would have proved interesting for the prosecution.

Here is a case where, as far as the Alberta police have proof, an innocent man was put to expense of upwards of $500, with practically no come-back, whatever, and it is thus that the department of the attorney general put a stop to such atrocities.

NOTICE OF MEETING

There will be a general meeting of the Blairmore Hockey Club, tomorrow (Friday evening), in the Union Hall at 8 p.m. sharp. Everyone interested are cordially invited to attend.

GOLFERS ENTERTAIN

The Pincher Creek Golf Club was pleasantly entertained by the Golf Club of Blairmore on September 4, when the Pincher Creek club journeyed here for a day's delightful sport.

Singles were played in the forenoon and foursomes in the afternoon. Tea was served in the afternoon, on the grounds, by the ladies of the local club and a dinner was regaled the visitors in the evening at the King George Cafe.

A most pleasant day was passed and the visitors expressed themselves as delighted with the way in which they had been entertained. Following are the scores of the contests which took place:

BLAIRMORE AGENTS
BLAIRMORE PHARMACY
G. N. Elwin, Ph.D., Proprietor

Dr. R. K. Lillie and J. F. O'Neill paid a "Bying" visit to Calgary the latter part of the week. They say there is really no need of bridges across chasms between here and the cow town, for a Chevrolet runabout never feels 'em, anyway. Jumping from one high spot to another is a favorite pastime for the "Doc" who claims to have discovered pockets in the air that aviators knew nothing about. Here's luck!

Every good citizen should know what forests mean to Canada, to his province, and to his very home; and that every fire that burns in the forests is a detriment to the progress of civilization. Every boy and girl should have instilled into their minds the untold damages that may result from carelessness with fire in the woods. In destroying the forests we are not only damaging the present, but are literally burning up the future.

Mr. Williams, of the Calgary Box Factory, who are owners of a sawmill and vast timber interests in this vicinity, was in town for a few days. On Sunday and Monday he visited the north boundary of the company's limits, where the recent big fire made considerable encroachment. Damage was not serious, however, and Mr. Williams anticipates a busy cutting and sawing year ahead.

Rev. J. S. Woodworth has been appointed editor of a new Labor weekly to make its debut soon at Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, the centre of the Maritime coal fields. The new paper will be known as The Maritime Labor Herald. Mr. Woodworth has edited labor publications in the west and came into prominence two years ago, in connection with the big Winnipeg strike.

Belfast Is Now The Storm Centre In Irish Political War

Belfast—Although the truce between the discordant factions is being completely observed throughout the remainder of Ireland, Belfast is experiencing a period of terror from gunmen and snipers.

The Ulster cabinet met to consider the serious condition prevailing here. Military officials and police authorities joined in the discussions. Arrangements were made to draft additional troops for the protection of the city, and other steps were taken to restore and maintain order.

London.—The grave disturbances in Belfast which have come in the midst of the most delicate possible peace negotiations with Ireland were occupying the attention of the entire English press. Both correspondents of London newspapers—in Belfast designate the present trouble as purely religious and it is certain that this element enters into the conflict to a more or less degree as always has been the case in Ulster politics. King George, in reply to an address from the convocation of Canterbury, says: "Let us thank God that some measure of response has been vouchsafed to my appeal to my Irish people. With full heart I pray that their reconciliation may be consummated by the deliberations now proceeding and that they may be united in making a new era for their native land."

Must Hold Their Grain

Mennonites Ordered to Await Outcome of Injunction Proceedings. Regina, Sask.—Mennonite communities in Saskatchewan, whose lands are involved in litigation as the result of the big deal for the purchase of large Mennonite holdings by an American syndicate, will be unable to dispose of their 1921 crop until pending laws have been determined. This is the result of an application before Mr. Justice Mackay in the court of King's Bench, by Bram Thomson, for an injunction restraining the Mennonites or anyone else from selling crops now being harvested. The application was granted. It is estimated that a million bushels of grain will be held up as a result of the order.

For Cheaper Coal

Discuss Plan to Operate Briquette Plant at Bismarck.

Ottawa.—Arrangements for the opening and operation of the Government briquetting plant at Bismarck, Sask., are expected to be completed during the visit to Ottawa of Premier Martin and Hon. C. Dunning, of Saskatchewan.

The plant was built at a cost of $680,000 for the purpose of manufacturing the low grade lignite coals of Southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan into briquettes for household use. Work at the plant will commence as soon as operating plans are arranged between the governments.

Panama Traffic

Washington.—During the seven years of commercial operation of the Panama Canal ending August 14 last, 13,416 commercial vessels made the transit through the isthmus, according to the records. The aggregate tonnage of these vessels were 46,889,942 and their cargo totalled 51,579,920 tons of 2,240 pounds.

International Court Of Justice Promises Well

Speculation Rife as to Probable Choice of the Council and Assembly.

Geneva.—By a resolution adopted by the Council of the League of Nations, that body will assume control of stipulations in the treaties with Hungary and Rumania regarding the reports of minorities in the territories which changed their sovereignty.

Chief interest in the work of the council centres for the moment upon the international court of justice, which is regarded as promising better results than any other section of the league thus far. Speculation has begun as to the probable choice by the council and assembly of the eleven judges from among about one hundred names thus far submitted. Canada, having submitted the names of Sir Robert Borden and Rt. Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, for consideration by the league.

Wireless For North Country

Plan Commercial Wireless Between Edmonton and Fort Norman.

Edmonton, Alta.—Edmonton and all the outside world is soon to have direct wireless communication with Fort Norman and Fort Smith, as well as other northern points, according to the plans of a local firm, who have just been granted a federal license for the operation of commercial wireless between these points.

The Edmonton firm is being backed by other local men, who are interested in the project.

Bert E. Perry, who is promoting the scheme for his firm, says that he will have an office in the Edmonton station, which will be located outside the city limits, away from the city power plants and other sources of electrical energy. Marconi equipment will be used, and wireless operators will be brought from the coast. It is expected to have the system in full operation by the early spring. With the installation of wireless upon the northern steamers, a continuous system of wireless will be available through the north.

Proposed Wheat Pool

Will Consider Action Regarding Proposals at Meeting in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg.—A meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture will meet two days prior to the opening of the general meeting to consider what action is to be taken on the proposed wheat pool. The advisability of carrying on with the plans now made or of cancellation of all plans will be discussed, and a report made to the general meeting.

The status of the Canada Grain Act will also be under consideration, it was stated.

Takes Over Street Car Line

Toronto.—After sixty years of private control, the last thirty under the Toronto Railway Company, the city's street car system came back into the city's possession at midnight Aug. 31st, the franchise having expired. It will in future be under the management of the recently appointed transportation commission.

Reward Still Open

Toronto.—A reward of $50,000 cash for the whereabouts of Ambrose J. Small, missing Toronto theatre owner—if alive, or $15,000 for his body—will be continued, according to a local afternoon newspaper.

Sign Hungary Treaty

Budapest.—The treaty of peace between the United States and Hungary were signed recently by Foreign Minister Banffy and Ernest Smith, United States commissioner here.

Smuts In Cape Town

London.—A Reuter's cable from Cape Town, South Africa, reports the arrival there of General Smuts, leader of the South African forces, who received an enthusiastic reception.

Von Buelow Dead

Berlin.—Field Marshal General Von Buelow, who was commander-in-chief of the German second army during the war, died here.

Consider Freight Rates Reduction

Ottawa.—Reductions in freight rates were under consideration at a private conference between the Board of Railway Commissioners and representatives of the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk and the Canadian National Railways. Hon. F. B. Carvell, chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, has expressed the view that something must be done to meet the present situation and is hopeful that some immediate action will be taken as a result of the conference. In support of a reduction in freight rates, the view is taken that falling wages and cheaper materials have reduced operating costs.

Turk Losses Heavy

Making Counter-Attacks to Arrest Advance of Greeks.

Athens.—Reports that Greek troops engaged in the offensive against the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor have suffered a reverse are denied in an official statement issued here. It is declared, however, that the battle along the Sakaria River is continuing with violence.

Towns along the southern coast of the Black Sea have been bombarded by Greek warships, the statement says.

Newspaper despatches from the front state the Turkish Nationalists are making continuous counter-attacks, arresting the advance of the Greeks. The enemy is bringing new reserves to the front to take the place of troops killed or wounded in the fighting, it being said that the Turkish losses are heavy.

Getting After Drug Smugglers

Seaplanes Found to be Invaluable in Watching for Offenders.

Ottawa.—Air patrols have been instrumental in frustrating to a large extent at least, the efforts of smugglers to land huge quantities of drugs illegally off the Pacific Coast, according to reports reaching Air Board officials from the customs department at Vancouver, where seaplanes have been placed at the disposal of the customs officials in their fight against the dope smuggler.

In a recent patrol, a longshoreman was arrested while trying to smuggle ashore $15,000 worth of opium from one of the vessels travelling between Canada and the Orient. The circumvention of the drug smugglers is a game which keeps the customs officials on the watch, as new landing places are tried almost for every shipment and it has been found that the seaplane is the only method of transportation speedy enough to enable the customs department to meet the situation.

Want Membership of Five Million.

Albany, N.Y.—A campaign of the American Federation of Labor for a membership of five million will be launched the federation's executive council announced. The campaign has been ordered by the council because of the recent slump in membership of the federation due to unemployment. The present membership is given at 3,906,526, as compared with 4,078,740 in 1920.

Makes Plea For Unemployed.

Toronto.—A plea for work for unemployed returned soldiers was made by Lord Byng of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada, when he addressed the Canadian Club at a luncheon tendered in his honor. The event brought together many of the important figures in the army, ecclesiastical, social and business life of Eastern Canada.

Italian Ship In Serious Condition.

Naples.—The situation arising from the retention of the steamship Pocaheas in port here since June 8, because of failure to pay for repairs, has become serious because the ship has aboard only five days' rations for its 28 passengers and 253 members of the crew.

Fire Destroys B.C. Plant

Nanaimo, B.C.—Fire completely destroyed the plant of the Nanaimo Fish, Meal and Oil Refining Company causing a loss estimated at nearly $50,000 on which there was $20,000 insurance.

Royal Chaplain Dies

London.—Rev. Canon Edgar Sheppard, Royal chaplain at Windsor Castle for many years is dead, aged 71. He was chaplain to Queen Victoria later to King Edward, the Queen Alexandra, and to the present Royal family.

WESTERN EDITORS

T. G. McKittrick, publisher of the Courier, Crystal City, Man.

Indian Disturbances Subsidizing

London.—A Reuter cable from Simla, India, reports that the Moplah disturbances in some districts are subsidizing and a favorable turn to the situation is expected shortly. Public-spirited Hindu Christian civilians are taking a hand by beating off the rebels as they appear. This is due to the belief, which is confirmed by local newspapers, that the rising is directed, not merely against the Government, but against all non-Mooslems.

Loans For Stock Raisers

Bank to Aid Cattlemen Over Times of Low Prices.

Ottawa.—Canadian cattle raisers will be carried over the period of abnormally low prices by advances from the banks secured by their stock. This announcement was made by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, minister of agriculture.

By arrangement between the Government and the Canadian Bankers' Association, any cattle raiser who asks for a loan and has security in cattle, will be given an advance to obtain fodder. Cattle raisers will thus be enabled to carry their stock instead of getting rid of it at sacrifice prices.

Dr. Tolmie stated that the banks will loan all that the cattle are worth, and that every effort will be made to carry the raisers through. Special consideration will be given to the period of the loans in order to assist the cattlemen to weather the storm.

It is understood that there is no specific limit placed on the total amount which the banks may advance under the arrangement with the Government.

Printers Resort to Prayer

Toronto.—Printers of Local 91, International Typographical Union, who have been on strike nearly three months for the 44-hour week, offered up prayers in the labor temple for the success of their fight, according to the Toronto Globe, which adds: "It was the first time a trade union turned to prayer in its fight with employers, and it is doubtful if such a scene was ever witnessed in the labor temple before."

Spanish Aviators Exploring Morocco

Madrid.—Spanish aviators, operating with the forces opposing rebelious Moroccans, are conducting extensive explorations of the plains and mountains in the troubled district. An Northeastern Morocco, says an official statement issued here. Hostilities between the Spanish and Moors appear to have died down as the statement declared nothing new had occurred.

Pay Insurance For Auto Fatalities

New York.—An estimate of $4,500,000 was paid by life insurance companies in the continent in death claims from automobile fatalities during 1920, is published by the Insurance Press. The figures are quoted to show that during the year the automobile caused 12,000 fatalities and a million other injuries.

Demand Race Equality

London.—Absolute race equality, political and social, as a foundation for advancement is the claim set forth in a manifesto to the world by the Pan-African congress now in session here. Various peoples of African descent in the United States, the West Indies, Central and South America and Africa are represented.

The congress will meet again in Brussels or Paris in September.

There are 12,000,000 negroes in the United States.

Steamboating On Saskatchewan River In The Late Seventies

By O. GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyright)

He was to go in his cabin and remain there, hand the boat over to me, with authority. Failing him doing this, I would return and report. He at once marched me round to the mate and steward and gave orders to this effect and disappeared. I walked on shore very leisurely and busied myself shaking hands with the multitudes of all kinds from the mouth to mouth. One huge Indian called "Shake-mace" (Mosquito) was the strongest man on board, and evidently a ringleader in the strike. We had all lit our pipes, when I issued a challenge to Shake-mace. We would fight the men, tossing up for first choice, and I bet him two sacks of flour to one that my gang could outwork him in a given space of time. The challenge was accepted, and though night had come, it made no difference, as there were plenty of flares. Never was freight unloaded and the boat wooded in quicker time. As all the dialogue had been carried on in Cree it was quite a mystery to the officers of the steamer, but I passed the buck to the chief engineer to start at once. I then visited the old man in the cabin and advised him to keep out of the way as much as possible until the men's anger had cooled down. So away they went. I returned to the Rapids at a much more leisurely gait than when we came up.

Poor old Captain W., an able steamboat man, but when trouble of any kind arose he became wild with excitement and his language was unwelcome. The Northwest made the Foks of the Saskatchewan all right, but there was not water enough to ascend the Cole's Falls, so the freight was unloaded there and hauled up to Prince Albert, a distance of about 30 miles.

A Runaway Car at Grand Rapids, Portage.

Three and a half miles of steel rails crossed the Portage, the height of land was about midway, and a down grade from there both ways. Small flat cars carrying from three to four tons were used, and mules were the motive power. Hauling up from the lake end to the start of the down grade, the mule's single tree was unhitched, the car at the upper end of weight, and the mule trotted behind the driver regulating the speed by a chain brake. The brake chains were old and in poor shape, though new ones had been ordered but never supplied. Stopped at dinner one day at the fine residence of the owner of the Portage, with a number of passengers waiting for a steamer up the river, a thundering noise was heard. I dashed out, and there, round the bend, came a heavily loaded car at a furiously speed. In charge was a very black French half-breed, with his hair flying in the wind, twisting the brake with all his might. But the chain had broken, so his efforts were fruitless. There was a neat gravel walk from the track right up to our front door, and as poor Beardsie came to this and noted the big warehouse doors were shut beyond, he gave a wild glance round, and, noting me, jumped the car and slid right up the gravel walk, his feet hitting the step hard. He was half unconscious with the excitement and shock, and on examination I found his legs and stern full of gravel pellets, which, as there was no resident doctor, I extracted with a pocket knife, using a log for an operating table.

The car hit some loose freight on the track and dashed through the doors of the warehouse. This fortunately was piled up with flour at that end, so this acted as a buffer and the damage was not extensive. On reporting the matter, new chains were promptly supplied, so there was some good came out of the accident. Mr. Mule had quietly trotted back to his stable at the lower end.

Retribution

It was rather righteous retribution, on this man, as some time before this, when he had a lot of loose freight piled under tarpaulins at the lower end of the Portage, I caught him with both hands down to the elbows in a big sack full of butter. The time was about midnight, and his intention evidently was to pull the butter out and fill up the firkin with rubbish, so that it would not check short. I well remember it was fitting moonlight and the expressions on his face would have made a good picture. One was murderous, then fear, and so on. Firkin and all, I marched him round to a leather trestle where we slept, woke up the men, had his hands tied behind his back, and set a guard over him until morning. He kept begging and praying me for silence and forgiveness. I phoned the chief (for one of our clever mechanics had made a telephone which actually worked, with empty cans and wire), so come over, which he did in the morning. We gave the culprit a summary trial, deferred sentence was the verdict, and a careful watch was to be kept on him until the summer of 1911.

While between his groans I was extracting the gravel and then using a strong mixture of carbolic acid, which no doubt smarted considerably, I reminded him of his fall from homogeneity and said no doubt the accident happened to him as a special punishment for his crime. For some time after this he slept on his face, much to the amusement of his comrades.

Like the cart transport, steamboating on the Saskatchewan has its day, and was gradually replaced by rail, the Canadian Pacific railway traversing the prairies and the Qu'Appelle and Long Lake running up to Prince Albert.

Hudson's Bay Company, with their far-seeing vision, had sold out part of their interests in 1883 to a transportation company, retaining, however, the right of first shipments over all concerns.

War Officially Ended August 31st

Order-in-Council Was Approved By King George.

London.—The King held a Privy Council at Buckingham Palace for the disposal of many matters of business affecting various Government departments. His Majesty approved an Order-in-Council with respect to the date at which the European war is officially ended. This order provided for the official termination of the war at midnight on August 31, and to be of general application except in regard to the Ottoman Empire.

This matter, although formal, is of very considerable importance, because many matters of national interest are dependent upon the date at which the war is declared to be at an end.

Population of Scotland Increases.

London.—The preliminary report of the Scottish census just issued shows that the population of Scotland has increased considerably since the last census was taken in 1911. The population is given as 4,882,000, including 2,348,000 males and 2,534,000 females, the gross total representing an increase of 121,000 over 1911.

Conference Interests China

China's Participation in Conference On Disarmament to Be Held in Washington.

Peking.—Interest in China's participation in the conference on disarmament and far Eastern questions to be held in Washington, is shown by the formation of a number of associations pledged to support this country's cause at the conference. A large number of prominent Chinese have been contacted in the Empire for the purpose of the conference. Since the Peking Government accepted President Harding's invitation to send a delegation to the United States capital, The constitutional party of Chekiang Province, has issued a call to other provinces to send representatives to Shanghai for a discussion of the Washington conference.

Want Exchange on Official Basis

London.—The British Board of Education are advocating that the exchange of teachers between the various parts of the Empire should be established on regular official basis. Hitherto New Zealand is the only Dominion whose Government has given the project direct official support.

Compliments Lloyd George

London.—The premier, Mr. Lloyd George was complimented by a reporter on the fine example he had given the citizens by attending church twice on Sunday.

income area nearly 275,000 quarter section farms, and if each farm were to support a family of five, this is the basis for census calculations his free grant to the railways would be supporting a population of 1,375,000 people. At a valuation of $10 per acre, it would represent a value of $10,000,000.00. It would be interesting to know in whose pocket this half a billion dollars repose to day but the farther you wait into this subject the deeper it becomes.

It is doubtful if there will be a fall session of the Alberta Legislature. The government is holding continuous executive sessions, considering the urgent needs of the province, one of which is permanent relief for the drought sufferers in the south part of the province. It is hoped to find some plan of permanent relief, so the annual large of free seed, free cow and free grub will not need be requested by the provincial government. Removal of large sections of sections from the drought areas to the north is one of the plans being considered it is understood.

ALBERTA STREAMS TO IRRIGATE BIG AREAS

According to the statements of the secretary of the Canadian Irrigation Council, a total of 1,750,000 acres of arid lands wholly in the province of Alberta and a large area in Saskatchewan, is now under irrigation district already organized, or in process of formation, or soon to be organized.

These districts include the following projects: South Macleod, 50,000; Reliance-Lomond, 70,000; Medicine Hat Southern and Eastern, 10,000; Beaver Creek, 10,000; Champion project 50,000; Little Bow, 3,000; Lethbridge Southern, 50,000. Two other projects are partly in Saskatchewan. The north Saskatchewan project is one of the most gigantic on the American continent, and includes the diversion of the waters of the north Saskatchewan and its tributaries into Buffalo lake, which is to be used as a central reservoir and storage basin. The lands under this project include all the area in the drought district east of the Red Deer river.

FOOLS AND FOREST FIRES

Tommy and Tony were two pretty pets. They went into the forest and they smoked cigarettes. They tossed matches here and they tossed the sticks there. Till suddenly wicked flames fired all the air. These flames burned the forest; they burned up the crops. They burned up the houses and the factories and stores. They burned up the church, both the nave and the steeple. They burned up the village, and almost many people. Now when you go into the forest shades, cool, Don't, as Tommy and Tony, get like a fool. Don't be careless with fire, don't toss cigarettes. Then the forest won't burn and you'll have no regrets. As for Tommy and Tony, they'd escaped once before. And carelessly thought they could do it some more. But found, to their sorrow, public feeling has risen. So, now they are spending six months in a prison.

JAMES LAWLER.

Somewhat similar to atrocities that were at one time committed by Germans is the case instituted against a woman resident of Coleman, recently by the provincial police. The woman was arrested and locked up before a charge was laid against her. While still in charge, bail of $250 was demanded for her release pending trial—or a charge. The woman still carries this bail and in spite of the request that a charge of some kind be preferred against her or a writ of prohibition issued, no solution has been arrived at. Surely there is a saner and better way of administering justice than practicing atrocities of this kind.

Miss Jessie Langlands of Calgary, has been spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Langlands in town.

Mr. Romeo Nadeau, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. P. Nadeau, of Stanfold, Quebec, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dutil, this week.

G. C. King, for many years postmaster at Calgary, has just been elected president of the association of mounted police veterans of Alberta.

Rain is falling very steadily today and it is hoped that it will quench the forest fires that have been raging in this vicinity for the past couple of weeks.

The Rogers' Pass tunnel on the C. P. R. through the Rockies is 26,400 feet in length and it requires about fifteen minutes for a train to pass through it.

To make the gas investigation by experts, has cost the city of Calgary $20,000. The report of the experts will probably not be accepted, after all the delay and expense.

In a three-page tax sale of lots and land in the Macleod district, which the Enterprise will issue next week, there are a total of about 17,500 individual figures used.

Capt. Janney who has been carrying on a hunger strike in the Lethbridge jail for the past 29 days, yesterday, was compelled to take to his bed, on account of his weakened condition.

During the month of July there were 32 strikes in Canada, involving 7,662 workmen. The loss of time resulting from these strikes was 103,554 working days.

Mr. P. Ubertino, of the Orpheum theater is to be congratulated on the excellent pictures that he has been giving his patrons. They are the best that Mr. Ubertino can get and to all reports are pleasing everyone.

The school enrollment of Calgary at the beginning of the present term was 11,990. The previous highest record was 11,097. The High School grades are said to be filled to overflowing.

The Canadian Importer, one of the Merchant Marine freighters, which was disabled at sea, is being towed to Vancouver at the rate of about 100 miles per day. She was disabled 700 miles southwest of Victoria, off the California coast.

P. M. Christophers, M. L. A. for Rocky Mountain was a visitor to Edmonton, the end of the week on personal business. So far the Farmer government of Alberta has not invited any members, aside from farmers to confer with them on the welfare of the province.

A scheme is on foot for acquiring Bunker Hill, in the northwest of London, and the erection on the summit of the hill of a monument inscribed with the names of the regiments and commanding officers of the British and American armies who fought side by side in the great war.

President E. J. Wood, of the Mormon Church of Alberta, emphatically denies the assertions made by a Mrs. Williams, a lecturer in the west, that the Mormon church in Alberta practices polygamy. Mrs. Williams comes from Utah and claims to be an ex-Mormon and has been drawing large houses in her anti-Mormon lectures.

By the Royal Marriage Act the Prince of Wales may now—being over twenty-five years of age—marry without the consent of the King. In that case, however, he would have to give notice of his intention to the privy council twelve months before the date of the ceremony. Even then the marriage would only be in force, legally, so long as both houses of parliament did not disapprove of it.

In preparation for the coming Federal election, the Farmers are organizing new U. F. A. locals in every part of the country. Even in the busy harvest season, meetings are being held and new groups formed.

Railroads report that there are now about 70,000 idle grain cars on sidetracks in the West, waiting for grain shipments. Of these the Canadian Nationals have 30,000 and the C. P. R. 40,000.

In the Dinton municipality, east of High River, the farmers have spent $9000 in fighting the grasshopper pest this season. They purchased an up-to-date mixing machine for the poison and went at it scientifically.

Emil Warner, a miser, was found dead in his cabin on the Montana side south of Sweetgrass, this week. He had $450 on his person and $6500 in the bank, but starved himself to death, it is claimed, as a result of his miserly habits of living.

While the new Farmer government of Alberta takes stock of road work, machinery and funds in hand, all road work under the provincial government has been suspended. About thirty crews were working in different parts of the province.

Arrested at Cranbrook, this week for forgery, A. C. Smith a former bank clerk aged 29, of Eckvill, Alberta, gave as his reason for the crime that it was impossible for him to live on the $54 per month salary which he received.

William Given, motorman on the street car which ran down and killed Mrs. J. H. Milne, in Calgary, the first of the week, has been remanded until the first of next week while a thorough investigation of the cause of the accident is being made by police and street car officials.

The Canadian Pipe company, of Vancouver, has secured the contract for furnishing the wooden pipe to be used in the huge siphons to carry the water across Rocky and Kenex coulees on the Lethbridge Southern irrigation system. The contract price of this material was $121,637.

The value of farm products exported from Canada, last year, into the United States, was $172,417,955, and it is thought that the Fordney tariff recently put into force in the U. S. will have the effect of seriously reducing this volume of business from Canadian farms this year.

Seven hundred city employees in Calgary are now insured under a municipal insurance scheme. The employee pays 60 and the city 40 per cent of the costs, the city being reimbursed by collecting 50 cents per month from each employee. The policy carries $1000 insurance, and in addition there is a sick and accident insurance.

The Palm Cafe announces that they are now serving meals to the public their kitchen having been completed today. They are conducting the nicest and cleanest eating place in the Pass and are also putting up fine meals. Philip Beytel, of Vinanda, Montana, has gone into the grasshopper business on a large scale and thinks he will make a fortune from it. During the summer when the pest was at its worst, he purchased tons of dead hoppers from his neighbors at $3 per bushel. In a monster drying shed he dried them out and sacked them and is now selling them to the same farmers for chick feed at double what he paid for them. The dried hoppers are said to be fine poultry feed.

AUTUMN IN THE PASS

A Blairmore poet
Took his girl for a walk
On a moonlight eve
The beginning of Autumn
He raved about the poplars
Growing golden;
He sang about the fire
That fringed the mountain top!
The moon drove him
Into raptures
And the Middle Fork of the Old Man River
Made him lose himself
In dreams.
But his girl, being no poet,
Was not interested.
She was operating on a
Double chew of Spearmint.
"Is it not glorious, dear?"
He whispered, pointing
To the shadowy heights of Turtle Mountain.
"Gee!" she said,
"I'll bet it's cold up there
About the middle of January."

I take you, dearest Margarine,
For butter or for worse.

The general feeling in Ireland, especially in Dublin, is that the war will arrive that have blasted Ireland is over and people look for better days. Merchants are getting ready for business and whatever may be the continued dicker about "better terms" there will be no resort again to the bloodshed that has been a disgrace both to the English and the Irish.

"WET, WET, WET" IN WEST

Declares Wanderer There—Leaving "Dry" Ontario for Prairies Traveler Finds John Barleycorn Still on the Job.

The Calgary correspondent to the Toronto Evening Telegram, and date of July 22nd, writes as follows: If the western provinces are "dry" then Ontario was never "wet," for liquor is dispensed everywhere as freely as if the people had never voted for its abolition. Booze flows in small town and big city alike, and there is no trouble at all in locating it, even though you are a stranger in a strange land and not even looking for it.

NO "TROUBLE TO GET IT"

No high sign or password is necessary to enter a dispensary, nor even to you have to speak easy when making your demands. A "real drink" order brings whiskey to the table and "beer" and a wink will get you a bottle of "suds" equal to the best that was ever handed out over a bar in Toronto in the "good old days" before S. F. Spence and G. A. Warburton sent Sir William Hearst his doom on the prohibition ticket.

In pre-prohibition days Saskatoon, for instance, had her open houses for the bars from early morning until eleven o'clock at night. Now liquor is sold fairly openly during the day time and flows freely from the till of closing-up time until the small hour of the morning.

"CE CREAM AND "SOFT" DRINKS! In other and smaller towns in Saskatchewan and Alberta it matters little whether it be morning, noon or night, hard stuff is retailed as freely as at any time in the history of the west. True, the barrooms are less popular gathering places than heretofore, but the ice cream parlors and drug stores have gained unbelievable popularity as rallying places for the man or woman with a "real thirst."

Of course raids are pulled off from time to time and some offenders against the Temperance Act are fairly heavily fined. But what is a fine to a hundred or two to an individual who is raking in the shekels at the rate of thousands of dollars a month? Other raids are made and no evidence is found, solely because the proprietor of the place has been "tipped off" in plenty of time to allow him to remove all incriminating evidence.

ALBERTA

Any citizen in Alberta might well be pardoned for brooding about the greatness of the future of the foothills province. It does not appear to make much difference what point of view is taken, in considering the province. Agriculturally its soil is among the finest in Canada. It is in Canada, the last stamping ground for the picturesque cowboy. Beneath its rich dark soil, Mother Nature has stored away a large portion of the coal reserves of the world—more than one million million tons, some of it anthracite, much bituminous and more sub-bituminous and lignite.

During the last few years many men and women in sections far from Sunny Alberta, have smiled themselves to sleep with a vision of wealth pouring toward them from the deep holes where drills prod in search of that maker of millionaires—oil. And in addition, as if the Giver of all this had chosen to be lavish, the Albertan has scenery—glorious, snow-diamond peaks, deep gorges, waterfalls, rushing torrents, mighty valleys—from the point where the surveyor's line separates our country from that of our cousins of the American republic, to that other survey line that divides Alberta from the territories. Why should the fortunate resident of the province NOT dream, indeed?

Alberta, in point of days, is twin to Saskatchewan, for these two political divisions of the Dominion were elevated to province-hood on the same September 1, 1905. Four years before that—Alberta's significant time, the federal census enumerators had set down the number of 75,023 as representing the total population of the lands now set apart as Alberta. These were divided: 52,899 rural and 20,622 as town dwellers. Two years later it was a greatly differing story the census told. There were 190,227 more farm folk and 121,514 more city and town folk. The census men of 1921 have not divulged the secrets of their lists as regards the present population, but it has been rumored abroad that the total population that will be credited to the province is in the neighborhood of six hundred thousand.

The increase in production has marched in step with that of population. In 1919 there were sowed to farm crops 8,170,971 acres and the value of the produce resulting was $149,580,800. In that year there were in that fourteen year old province 500,300 horses, 1,344,044 cattle, 564,198 sheep, 455,538 swine, and 1,426,175 poultry. In 1918 the province of its two sister provinces to the immediate east with a production of creamery butter valued at $4,025,881. These unmistakable evidences of a vast amount of energy expended in Canada's basic industry in the shadow of the Rockies, excuses the glow of enthusiasm that lights the countenance of the reflecting Albertan when he discusses the position of his province with Canadians from beyond its borders.

Alberta has, in connection with the distribution of products destined to lands beyond the sea, been compared both favorably and unfavorably with its two prairie sister provinces.

If the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence were its only outlet, Alberta might declare its advantages in other particulars, in vain. His brother agriculturalists in Saskatchewan and Manitoba would willingly point out the extra distance to be covered by the cereals and other products of the fertile lands immediately eastward of the great mountain barrier and would consider the discussion as closed. But another factor must be taken into consideration in connection with the shipments from Alberta. The Pacific, with big ports free at the year round, to get some seven or eight hundred miles to the westward. Test shipments have proved that wheat may be transported through the Panama canal in bulk without damage and the grades of the railways crossing the mountain the Canadian National through the Yellowhead Pass at any rate offer no obstacles to be regarded as important. The provision of proper facilities at the Pacific seaboard for the handling of the grain in quantity, is necessary, but it is incidental to the surety that the chief export commodity from the prairie provinces can be handled by that route.

If export commodities form east of the Rockies in the west do seek the Pacific outlet to a marked extent the insistence of the designers of the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk lines, which reach tide water, respectively, at Vancouver and Prince Rupert, upon easy grades and alignment, will be proved to have been completely justified.

There is one short grade of one per cent enclashed on the G. T. P. near the Pass and one of seven tenths of one percent on the Canadian Northern line to the south and west of the Yellowhead gateway.

Westbound the maximum is five tenths on the C. N. R. and four tenths on the G. T. P. Such grade as these one would expect to meet in Ontario, or on the prairies themselves, and not through a mountain barrier formidable as that of the Rocky mountains. But the easy grades through British Columbia are engineering the facts nevertheless.

The Canadian Pacific, according to the elevations listed by the Commissioner of Conservation, crosses the mountains at heights calling for a maximum grade of 2.5 per cent advantages resting with the C.N.R. Although our route is longer, the lines in the handling of Albertan tonnage to the Pacific and vice versa, are too obvious to require further elaboration here.

Next to agriculture, coal is a great resource in Alberta, and the agricultural, it is a resource that has been as carefully tapped in the province. Geologists measure the potential tonnage of the fuel that lies under the fertile soil of the foothill country, in sections that pile millions on top of millions. It is of five classifications: anthracite, semi-anthracite, bituminous, sub-bituminous, and lignite, with the balance tipping in favor of the two last named but no one, as yet, is quite sure that all the anthracite deposits of the province have been prospected.

Certain it is there are resources in coal in Alberta to warm homes and feed the boilers of factories and locomotives in Canada for a long period of years. Time was, in the vision of the geologists, when a shallow sea of brackish water spread over all the land in the central west of North America, from the Arctic Circle to the Gulf of Mexico, with luxuriant vegetation fringing its western margin.

As the ages rolled into eternity, the waters passed out and the vegetation began its slow natural formation into fuel that is such a helpmate in modern civilization. The forest, among the trees of which the dinosaur—mammoth reptiles of prehistoric times roamed, must have been of vast dimensions. The Federal authorities, to whose lot it falls to catalogue the resources of coal in the Dominion, estimate that there repose today in Alberta boundaries more than a trillion tons of coal its value would, of course, be difficult to compute, for who, in these times, would care to say what the price of the fuel will be some hundreds of years hence?

In Manitoba and Saskatchewan but little coal is known to exist, so that the inhabitants of these two provinces are, naturally, purchasers of the product of Alberta mines. They were, however, not always the great customers they are at the present time. Coming, as they did, many of them, at least from the United States, and from the eastern provinces, the authorities of Pennsylvania to which they had been abandoned, was the fact that they sought to work their mines during the long, cold winters that prevail upon the prairies. This coal came by freighter up the lakes to Port Arthur and Ft. William. The railways established at these points for its storage, and moved it west as market conditions demanded.

The war, which changed so many trade movements, altered that one also. It became necessary to restrict the anthracite in this country. The production from the mines in Alberta was speeded up to provide sufficient tonnage, and the authorities in Saskatchewan and Manitoba conducted a campaign of education for the benefit of furnace tenders. Except for troubles inevitable when any change in the classification of a commodity in common use was made, there was no hardship, and the chances are the Pennsylvania product will never be utilized to any great extent in the Canadian west. Last year also, the coal came east as far as New Ontario, quite a lot of it being used in the Colton district where the cold is often intense. It was an efficient fuel and was well liked. There was considerable talk of freighting it even to the densely settled sections of Older Ontario, but the rate that would have to be charged on the railways for its transportation militated against that move. It may come that far in time—possibly as far as the point where it would meet with coal from Nova Scotia. But the United States mines are still too close for the competition of the Alberta product to be really effective or economical there.

In view of these facts, therefore it is not surprising that the value of production in coal in Alberta last year was greater than that of either Nova Scotia or British Columbia, although the average price secured was slightly lower than that obtained for the Nova Scotia commodity and quite a considerable amount less than was that paid out for that from the mines of British Columbia. In all 1920, 147,495 were realized by the Alberta coal operators, representing a tonnage that totalled 8,229,245. Of

PREMIER TO SELDW BROUGHT CONDITIONS

Premier Greenfield and Hon. Geo. Hoadley leave Thursday night on an inspection tour through the west of Southern Alberta, says an Edmonton dispatch. They will be accompanied, if possible by Hon. R. G. Field, minister of municipal affairs, and will make a careful investigation of conditions as found in the district now calling for some measure of government relief.

Mr. Greenfield points out that it will be, in the case of a considerable part of the area concerned, his first visit, and he is desirous of ascertaining for himself exactly what the situation is in order that relief measures may be more effectively drawn up. Under escort of the minister of agriculture he will go through a portion of the country more seriously affected reaching some of the points by motor car.

The provincial government bank in Manitoba is proving a great success. Its deposits are now at three million dollars. It has six branches throughout the province and is being forced by pressure of business to enlarge its head offices at Winnipeg. There is talk among the farmer's organizations in Saskatchewan of establishing a like system of banking there.

This the Canadian National Railways were the important carriers, our lines being credited with but per cent of all handlings, marked by Canadian railways. The system serves the great coal-producing districts, and as the market in the west increases, our proportion of the tonnage should be augmented in due course. One does not have to be unduly optimistically held to the opinion that, in time coal will vie with agriculture as a primary producer in Alberta—Canadian National Railway.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS AND PRODUCTION

The satisfying way in which the British miners are getting to work is only one of several factors which augur well for more settled conditions in Europe generally, and as such developments progress the market for many Canadian products will improve. There appears to be no doubt now but that a higher price will be obtained for our wheat than in normal years, and that our dairy products will be in fair demand. At present, the prices for dairy products in the domestic market are showing considerable strength. On the other hand, the outlook for cattle and their products at the present time is anything but cheerful. The prices now offered are lower than they were for many years before the war. In Southern Alberta unfinished stock is for the time being, practically unsalable. Good steers are being bought for as low as $40, and at the Calgary stockyards a cow and her calf could be purchased for $20. It is not anticipated that this condition will persist, as experienced stockmen who are in a position to do so are adding to their herds, or making preparations to carry them through the winter in Great Britain. Shipments of chilled beef have been made to London, and the price obtained was equal to or better than obtained for the foreign product. While it is at present difficult to dispose of cattle in domestic markets, it is noticeable that creameries are increasing in number and that factories manufacturing milk products are again entering the market for milk.

In domestic business the changes during August were not marked. In the iron and steel industry there was a slight expansion, due to orders placed by the railroads, and a general improvement in the demand for hardware. Jobbing centres experienced a better demand for goods, especially from the Western Provinces. On the Pacific coast a sufficient number of orders for lumber have been placed to necessitate running the plants at sixty-five per cent of capacity. The demand is largely from the Orient.

Employment in general has slightly decreased, owing to greater activity in the meat packing and dairying industries in the Western Provinces and Ontario, the re-opening of the railway shops and the effort to prepare the railways and their equipment for the moving of the crop.

Wheat production in the prairie provinces will this year exceed 250,000,000 bushels, as compared with 234,000,000 in 1920, while yields for the entire Dominion is estimated at 276,000,000 bushels. As in the case of wheat, the production of oats, barley and flax will be in volume above the average of recent years.

The work on the new wells in the Fort Norman and Great Slave Lake areas, in the extreme northwest of the Dominion, will determine the commercial possibilities of oil and gas production there. It is evident, however, that the prospecting and development stage has not yet been passed. The most promising field for oil appears to be at Fort Norman, where one well is unofficially reported to have yielded a large amount of oil.

Scientists are now tracing ocean currents by means of empty bottles which are followed and picked up from time to time.

KEEP FORESTS ALIVE

Living forests provide us with wood material of all kinds for our homes and industries, but burned forests provide no lumber for the sawmill, no work for the workman, and no business for the merchant, and no freight for the railway or steamship. Dominio speaks highly of the treatment accorded him by the servants, directed by His Majesty, and promises to do all in his power to have others' experience similar cordiality. ## Do you discriminate at the dining table—or are you thoughtless?

In thousands of homes, a "line" is drawn at the breakfast table. Tea or coffee is served for "grown-ups" and Postum for children. But some parents do not discriminate. Tannin and caffeine, the injurious contents of tea and coffee, seriously retard the development of the delicate nerve tissues in children.

Consequently, instead of rich, satisfying Postum, children are over-stimulated by the drugs in tea and coffee; and so may grow up irritable and nervous. Any doctor can tell you that this is a great evil and should be corrected.

Although some parents feel a certain justification for the personal indulgence in tea or coffee, yet the harm to them may be equally serious. It may take a little longer for the drugs in tea and coffee to affect

A Detector Of Carelessness

Machine Registers Bumps and Knocks Given to Freight in Transit.

Rough handling of freight in railway yards or in transit gives rise to many claims by shippers. In some districts this cause is reckoned as producing from 25 to 30 per cent. of all claims for damages. Railroad managers have wrestled with the problem, which is difficult because it is so hard to trace the carelessness to any one train crew.

Now, however, an instrument has been devised to detect the time and place of damage done to moving freight. It is called an "impact-register," and has been made the subject of exhaustive tests by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. The machine is constructed on the principle of the seismograph, and when placed in a box car will record the time of each shock and also the intensity. By this means the management is able to prove exactly when and where, for example, the reckless switching of freight cars was done.

Our morals may not be improving, but our skill in inventing methods to expose bad morals certainly shows no signs of flagging.—The New York Times.

Oldest Bell In

Western World

Taken From Spain's Monastery Bells

The oldest bell in North America—or in either of the Americas—is in the rectory of the small village of East Haddam, Conn., which stands a few yards from the famous schoolhouse of Nathan Hale. The bell bears the date, "A.D. 803," and it is believed it was taken from an ancient Spanish monastery. The bell probably came to America as part of a ship's ballast, or as junk. At any rate, this particular bell was purchased from a junk yard and presented to the church.

The age of the bell, however, is doubtful. It is of bronze, and of a greenish color. It is not cracked, and will still resound when struck, but it is not now used. There is little doubt, however, that this bell is the oldest in this continent, and that it was the first bell to ring over the waters of the new world from the belfry of one of the first churches built on these shores.

The Friend of All Sufferers.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is a valuable remedy to all those who suffer pain. It is sold to everyone, and realizes it by stilling suffering everywhere. "It is a liniment that has the blessing of being everywhere." It is on sale everywhere and can be found wherever required.

There is said to be a shooting fly with a hollow, cylindrical-bell. When it sees a fly on plants that grow in shallow streams it ejects a single drop of water, which knocks the fly into the tide.

The Last Link With Franklin

Reminiscences of Gallant Seaman Who Braved Arctic Perils.

The other day at Hull, there died at the great age of ninety-seven, a captain, Richard Tetlow, who was the last link with those active Arctic expeditions in search of the remains of Franklin's party, every searching expedition bringing reports of importance to geographical science. Tetlow's death is the occasion of a looking backward to the search for a northwest passage to the Pacific, especially to Sir John Franklin's last expedition and to the expeditions for his relief, and for the purpose of discovering what happened to the "Erebus" and the "Terror" and their gallant passengers.

Franklin is an Arctic hero of a singularly heroic maritime age and his name is associated with Canada's northland and two counts. In 1819, on his first overland journey from Hudson's Bay to the mouth of the Coppermine River, he wintered on the Saskatchewan. And it was at Cumberland House that he taught the lad, William Kennedy, psalms and hymns, and left him with aspirations that bore fruit long after. On that expedition, which covered two years, he returned by the Barren Ground.

In the years 1825-1827, he made a second overland journey, or, more properly, as the term is now, Both expeditions, fruitful in discovery, were well rewarded by the nation. Between 1829 and 1845 when he sailed on the last fateful voyage, Franklin was distinguished in the Mediterranean and in the South Seas, but he was ready and eager for the new adventure by Arctic ice and water, and when the First Lord of the Admiralty reminded him that he was sixty years old, the explorer replied: "No, no, my lord, only fifty-nine." Though the whole expedition was to end tragically, the evidence is that the noble adventurer saw the northwest passage though he never entered it.

Between 1847 and 1857 some forty-nine expeditions sailed in search of the "Erebus" and the "Terror," many of them financed by voluntary contributions. Lady Franklin spent her whole fortune in the search. The expedition of 1851, in the honor of Albert, then commanded by Captain Penny, with Lieut. Bellot, of the French navy as second, was Lady Franklin's private venture; and it was the "Prince Albert" that brought home the first traces of the missing ships, consisting of scattered articles found on Beechey Island by the captain of another ship. The notable geographical discoveries made by the "Prince Albert" were Bellot Straits and the northernmost point of land in North America which navigators had been seeking for centuries.

Captain Kennedy, who was born at Fort Cumberland, returned to the Northwest and spent the last thirty years of his life at St. Andrews on the Red River. A few years ago, the women's Canadian Club placed a tablet to his memory in the old stone church at St. Andrews, built in 1848. The tablet was unveiled by Sir Ernest Shackleton.

Like Captain Kennedy, Richard Tetlow was a volunteer, but in a later searching expedition he had been an able seaman and had spent boyhood and manhood in northern waters. Like Captain Kennedy, he slipped his anchor, but not at sea. Such men, says his memorial in the London Journal, "are the salt of our race." We had abundant proof of that salt, as great proof as all his story affords, during the war. It is a gallant race, the sea-faring race, and it has put dynamic into the very world, sea. A little word of three letters—a word that thrills today as it thrilled in the years when they pronounced it as we pronounce "saw." And while the word thrills seamen or landsmen, the race will never lack salt.—Free Press.

The Jewels Of Watches

Sapphires Generally Used On Account Of Hardness and Reasonable Price.

The principal reason for the deterioration of any piece of machinery is because the constant friction wears away the moving parts and interferes with the regularity of the mechanism.

Watches are generally equipped with seven, fifteen, seventeen, eighteen, twenty-one or twenty-three jewels, the fifteen and seventeen jewel types being the most popular. Intrinsically, the jewels are of little value, but from the standpoint of service and the specific purpose which they serve they are invaluable. Jewels usually used in watchmaking are the hardest of the precious stones, diamonds, sapphires and rubies, and of these the most generally used is the sapphire, which combines hardness with comparatively reasonable price.

LOST 29 POUNDS DYSENTERY A Navy Serge Coat WAS THE CAUSE

Dysentery is one of the most forms of bowel complaint, and hardly any other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and utter collapse that often terminate fatally.

To check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation you should use that grand old remedy with a reputation extending of 76 years.

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Mr. G. H. McVagh, Mawer, Sask., writes:—"About eight years ago I had a severe attack of dysentery. I was sick for three weeks. I weighed 154 lbs. with I took sick and 125 when I got it stopped. I think I tried every medicine on the market, but did not feel relief until I used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and one bottle did it. I think that is nothing like it for diarrhoea or dysentery. I always keep some on hand as a person they do not know what will need it." Price 50c a bottle; put up only by The T. ## Gluten Flour Its Uses and Characteristics Explained in Government Bulletin.

Nearly all of the so-called-gluten flour offered to the public are not made from gluten. Such is the frank statement made by Dr. C. E. Saunders, the Dominion Cerealist, in a bulletin entitled "Wheat, Flour and Bread," recently issued by the Experimental Farm Branch at Ottawa. The named used, says Dr. Saunders, is entirely misleading, as these flours often contain a high percentage of starch and are quite unsuitable for diabetic patients. As a rule the gluten flour offered for sale are practically identical with the whole wheat and graham flours. Graham gluten flour, which is made by washing the starch out of wheat flour and then drying and grinding, is extremely expensive. Gluten bread has no resemblance to whole wheat bread, and with starchy for such is an impossibility. Rather less than 50 per cent. of genuine gluten flour can be mixed with ordinary flour, and bread of medium quality be made. Gluten flour can also be used in the production of pastries, biscuits and other products provided it be mixed with ordinary flour, fine shreds or ground nuts, together with eggs, milk, baking powder, etc. There is, however, no possibility of producing any form of palatable bread, biscuit or cake with a very large proportion of pure-gluten flour. Dr. Saunders suggests that physicians would be well advised to take cognizance of these facts and not to expect their patients to purchase what is unpalatable or to eat what is inedible. The bulletin, it is remarked, goes thoroughly into its subject, treating it in all its phases.

Embroidery Adorns A Navy Serge Coat

By Marie Belmont.

The loose-sleeved coat is an admirable addition to the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. This model is cut from a very fine piece of navy blue serge. It shows the dropped armhole which insures comfort as well as preventing the crushing of the flimsy frock. The bell-shaped sleeves are finished with a deep stretch of embroidery, which reveals both Copenhagen and silk. The lower part of the wrap is similarly adorned. Oblong bone buttons make a distinctive fastening, while the high collar emphasizes a new style and the Fall. The felt hat shows a feather trimming.

The district visitor in a congested section of the city asked one of the little girls, "Are all these children your brother and sisters?" "Yes," replied the youngster. "What is the biggest one's name?" queried the visitor. "Maxie, mum." "And the name of the smallest one?" continued the lady. "Minnie, mum." Buffalo Commercial.

Used for nearly half a century as a general household remedy. Large bottles 35c at all dealers.

Bumper Apple Crop.

The most recent reports received by the Provincial Department of Agriculture from the fruit districts of British Columbia state that the apple crop will be 100 per cent. greater this year than last year. The crop will require, it is estimated, 5,000 freight cars to take care of the exports.

What One of the Best Known Travellers in Canada Says

"Now I am going to give you an unsolicited testimonial, as they say in the patent medicine advertising. Hereafter I have had a profound contempt for patent medicines, particularly so-called cures. Perhaps this is due to the reason that I have been blessed with a sturdy constitution, and have never been ill a day in my life. One day last fall after a hard day's tramp in the bush of Montreal, I developed a severe pain in my back, and of course, like a man who has never had anything wrong with him physically, I complained. 'What ails you?' The good little wife says: 'I will rub them with some ointment.' What does this sentence mean? 'Should Mr. Noble, who sits for this constituency, consent to stand again and run he will in all probability have a walkover?'"

At one period in Holland there was a ban on the sale of oranges and carrots. The reason was the hostile feeling toward the Statholder's family, whose favorite color was orange.

Worms are encouraged by morbid conditions of the stomach and bowels, so no so-called Miller's Worm Powders will alter these conditions almost immediately and will sweep the worms away. No destructive parasite can live in contact with this medicine, which is not only a worm destroyer, but a health-giving medicine most beneficial to the young constitution.

High-grade fountain pens are tested by an instrument called a micrometer. If one piece of the mechanism is out of a six-hundredth part of an inch the micrometer rejects it as faulty.

Miss Ella Johnson Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My trouble began as small pimples and in a few months they got worse and my forehead was just a mass of large pimples. They were hard and red and caused me to scratch, and I was disgusted for the time. They made me embarrassed when out in company. I tried nasearins but it was of no help. I saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent for a free sample. After using them I bought more, and when I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment for about a month I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Ella May Johnson, Box 65, Canas, Idaho, March 9, 1920.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum powder maintain skin purity, skin comfort and skin health when when used.

Alberta May Have Oil Boom

British Trade Commissioner, Montreal, Receives Detailed Report.

That there may be an oil boom in this country of unprecedented proportions is the conclusion of a detailed report on oil operations in Alberta and the North-West Territories received by Capt. E. J. Edwards, senior British trade commissioner, Montreal, from the Winnipeg branch.

The operations of the Imperial Oil Company take the major part in the report, and the conclusion is that "there is little doubt that the arrival of further important news from the north at the end of the present summer and the finding of more oil within the province of Alberta will be the signal for an oil boom of unprecedented magnitude."

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be losing all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera, infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They gently soothe, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Phone 177 THE STORE OF QUALITY J. Oliva, Mgr.

I'm running a sherrized store!
I wouldn't go back any more,
For a cartload of seeds,
To the ways of our duds
To the sloppy old methods of yore.
You ask what does sherrized mean?
Well, firstly, it's making things clean.
In a sherrized store, there's no junk on the floor,
No dirt or disorder is seen.
Folks come to my store and when they've looked it over
They murmur, Gee Whizz!
How delightful it is!
We've seen nothing like it before.
The customer cheerfully spends
And when from my place he wends,
He gives me no knock, but bows as he walks,
My sherrized store to his friends.
Oh here in my sherrized shop, economy's always on top
For things are at hand, at instant command,
I don't have to walk till I drop.
The goods are in sight of the scale, I waste no time in a sale!
I gambol and smile in the old-fashioned style,
As I merrily take in the kale.

Fresh Eggs, per doz 45c. Tomatoes, per basket 40c
